CHINESE ASKED TO VALLEY ISLE

Now that they have seen Duke give an exhibition, Maui has extended an invitation to the All-Chinese team to visit the Valley Isle and play a number of games at Wailuku.

The Chinese boys will take the matter into consideration and will probably visit the neighboring island as soon as they can make the necessary connections.

Local baseball talk is now centered on the game next Saturday between the All-Chinese and the J. A. C. "Lucky" Yee has been chosen to pitch for the Chinese team, and as the local fans have not seen this twirler in the box since he left with the All-Chinese on their invasion of the mainland, the fact that he will be seen in the box has added interest to the game.

PRESIDENT JORDAN COMMENDS RUGBY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—The entire student body of Leland Stanford, Jr., University assembled on the college field today to greet the Waratah Australian Rugby players. President David Starr Jordan extended a welcome to the athletes. In his address he said:

"These men have come 7000 miles to play a game for the game's sake and we have a lesson to learn from them. They do not play solely to win; they play for the love of the sport and they never try to beat the rules. Nine years ago Stanford adopted Rugby in preference to the American game and was wise in doing so. There is not that clean, healthy sportsmanship in the American game that is obtained in Rugby. We have abolished the coach system in the game here, because a coach's business is simply to win."

Dr. Otto Bohrmann of Sydney, manager of the team and treasurer of the Metropolitan Rugby Union, replied to Dr. Jordan's address and presented him with an Australian flag.

WILL PROTECT HEALANI CLUB

The Healani bathhouse may be moved several feet nearer the pilot house, but if it is shifted the Inter-Island Company will pay the expense incurred. Though no action on the proposed exchange of harbor lines between the company and the Territory was taken at the meeting of the board of harbor commissioners, the announcement given above was made by the commissioners, reassuring the members of the board that whatever action is taken, the club will sustain no loss.

"The protection of the Healani Club was the first matter brought by us to the attention of the Inter-Island's representatives when the proposition to exchange harbor lines was made," explained Commissioner McStocker yesterday. "And it has been definitely agreed that whatever is done, whatever requirements the company may ever for its proposed floating drydock at the Bishop slip, the boat club will be protected."

The commission, following a report by James Morse, foreman of wharves and landings, decided that as soon as the county of Molokai constructs a practicable approach to the landing at Wailua, Molokai, the government will erect a derrick for the landing of freight to and from that point. Morse reported that great quantities of taro are grown by the settlement there, but that much of it rotted and became dead loss because of inadequate loading facilities. He said the landing at present is closed about six months in the year because of the rough water.

Ed. McCarrison was appointed wharfinger at Kamalo.

The board, at its next meeting probably will consider the advisability of constructing the Kihel wharf with day labor. No bids on the job have been received from building contractors, and the commission is virtually forced to this alternative.

After considerable argument, and with some explanation by Mr. Young, of the Lord-Young Engineering Company, it was finally decided that the company shall have until March 15 to complete its work on the Hilo wharf, though the Queen street bulkhead and dredging at Honolulu must be completed by the same company January 15.

THE CALL OF THE DIAMOND.

You may talk of the track and the paddock,
Of the pastime of princes and kings.
You may follow the student of Queensbury rules
At the side of the roped sawdust rings.

But the call of the diamond is sweetest,
And joy overflows from his cup
When the "fan," seated high in the bleachers
Hears the umpire command "Bat-ter up!"

We all know how the charm of the woodland
And the lure of the clear mountain brook
Where the trout in the shadowy waters
Are trapped by the fly and the hook;

But the brain thrills with keener sensations
As the thousands surge in through the gate,
And the air rings with wild exhortations
When the batsman steps up to the plate.

The epicure gets indigestion
And is cut down to hot milk and toast.
The dancing fraternity lose lots of sleep
From the hours when it's needed the most;

But the bleacher bathes in the sunshine
And is charged with no extra expense
When a liner propelled by his favorite's bat
Takes a plank from the center field fence.

In the warm afternoons of the summer
We close up the office and shop
And tie ourselves out to the ball grounds
And revel in peanuts and pop.

Where the roar of the stands wakes the echoes
Like the booming of thirteen-inch guns.
And the scorers grow hot with excitement
As they chalk up the hits and the runs.

The lure of the ball game grows stronger
The call of the diamond more clear.
The ranks of the "fans" are increasing
As the game gains in favor each year.

We all know it's played on the level;
Let's give it our loyal support
And foster the spirit of manhood it breeds
Which has made it the national sport.

PALZER TO QUIT BOXING

Big Iowan Declares He Is Now Tired of Fight Game; Is Going Back to the Farm

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—According to a statement made by Al Palzer, the foremost white hope of the country, has made up his mind to retire from the ring for a time and go back to the farm. Although the burly Iowan farmer has worked his way to the forefront of all his numerous competitors, he has become thoroughly discouraged over his inability to get bouts. This is due to the fact that he refuses to box under the management of the man who holds a contract on his services.

"I have decided to go back home," said the big fellow in telling his troubles. "If Tom O'Rourke would put up a bond guaranteeing to give me fair treatment I would be willing to go back to him, but he has repeatedly refused to do this. I can't trust him and I will never fight under his management again unless I know I am going to get a square deal."

"I have been trying to get a court decision on whether my contract will hold good, but I can't get any action on it. As the question remains, it is up to O'Rourke to make the first move, but he keeps putting it off. I have been hanging around doing nothing long enough, and I am tired of it all. I am young yet and I have lots of time. I think I'll go back to the farm and wait until the contract runs out. I am going home anyway, and unless O'Rourke will come to terms with me I will not come back until I am a free agent again."

Palzer is feeling bitter not only toward O'Rourke but the local promoters as well, who he declares are not treating him fairly. He realizes that what he needs most of all at this stage of his career is plenty of work in the ring. It irks him sadly to see the other big fellows whom he characterizes as "easy marks" getting the money while he is forced to remain idle.

Palzer hints darkly of many wheels within wheels in the local boxing situation and intimates that he could tell a tale that would cause certain persons to sit up and take notice if he cared to.

State Senator Marshall Black who caused the crash of the Palo Alto Building and Loan association refused to resign from the legislature and the recall may be used to oust him.

WILL LEAD PUNAHOU IN FOOTBALL GAME SATURDAY

WHAT'S BECOME OF THAT OLD NOISY RAH-RAH CHORUS?

Why not some cheering at the football games this year? Take into consideration any of the large high schools on the mainland. Just as soon as school commences in the fall the student body meets and a cheer leader is chosen. This is one of the first things that is done. He is not merely chosen at random, but there are generally two or three fellows in line for the position and the election arouses keen interest, because what the students want is a leader—one that can keep the noise going and keep the crowd of rooters together. If the school is exceptionally large, the leader generally has from one to two assistants, as the case may be. They begin at once to hold meetings of all the students, either at noon or after school.

Every school expects every man to come out to the games and contribute his share of the noise. Then when the first game is played, every student knows the yells and how to give them. And they make some noise, too!

Therefore, let's have some cheering at the football games this year. ENTHUSIAST.

No extra points are to be given to the winning team or company in soccer. The inter-company games will last for about three weeks. Track begins immediately after soccer.

The Kamehameha boys are extremely busy all the year round. School work, drills and athletics take up all their time. The athletic committee has arranged for something to be going on all the time for the boys. Drill begins.

Drill work begins this week. The boys were given their guns and are now going through the manual of arms. The new boys are doing finely under the guidance of the older and more experienced ones and they present a fine spectacle when on parade or doing drill work.

Great Britain said to be taking in too much sport

LONDON, September 13.—A kindly correspondent recently wrote to the effect that he considered I was more than fair in chronicling the success of foreign sportsmen over Britishers, but often failed to give equal prominence to the successes of our men when the positions were reversed. The writer can only accept this as a compliment for he would far rather be over-fair to our rivals than otherwise.

There is also another side to the matter, from a point of view of interest. The success of the Australian and French oarsmen at Henley regatta, for instance, happened to be the outstanding feature of the regatta. It was therefore the proper thing to give the victors due recognition. Further, the defeat of British sportsmen strikes most Britishers as something more exceptional than their victories. Until quite recent times we were "top dog" in so many sports and pastimes that our wins were accepted as a matter of course. The Olympic games movement has led to other nations making big progress, and our supremacy has been challenged in many directions. This is all the better for international sport, and also for good feeling between England and other nations. There may be some who see in our defeat on the field of sport signs of decadence. Such people are poor judges and unfriendly disposed towards the nation which has done more for genuine sports than all the rest of the world combined.

England Lags in Many Ways.

The old country has lagged in many ways, but as Col. Sam Hughes, of Canada, recently remarked—after watching the army maneuvers: "I have seen the finest army in the world."

The Canadian Minister of Militia has had wide experience, including active service in South Africa, so that his opinion is worth something. Again, on his return to Canada, Mr. Borden, the Prime Minister of the Dominion, said: "Any one who thinks the motherland dead or dying is vastly mistaken."

Most Englishmen do praise their conquerors and say little over their own victories. It is a good fault—if it be a fault—and while a few individuals may make much over our defeats, the vast majority of sportsmen in other countries make no mistake about the true position.

The fact of the matter is that John Bull has gone in for so many sports, and gained so many laurels, that he has grown indifferent to victory. A defeat does him good and rouses his

KAMEHAMEHA IN LAST COMPANY BASEBALL

Company B Wins Championship in Close Game—Soccer Begins Soon

The championship inter-company baseball game was played yesterday afternoon between Companies B and C of Kamehameha school, and Company B came off victorious, winning over Company C by a score of 3-0.

The game was splendid, both teams straining to their utmost to beat each other. They were both very evenly matched and that tended to heighten the interest in the game.

Before this game the standing of the Companies was as follows: Company A, 12 points. Company B, 16 points. Company C, 16 points.

Company A dropped out before the finals and the championship was left to be fought for by Companies B and C with the results above mentioned.

Companies B and C held together throughout the whole baseball season and there was a good deal of doubt as to who would be the winner. Company A was composed of smaller and less experienced players but they did well and their efforts are certainly worthy of commendation.

According to a previous arrangement the company that wins the baseball series is to get three extra points and the company which has the most points in everything is to be treated to a dinner and a dance by the rest of the school.

Soccer Begins Soon.

Eighty-one boys have been playing baseball, each company having three teams. In soccer, which begins Tuesday of next week, ninety-nine boys will be playing, there being nine teams of eleven men each.

The school soccer series, which begins next week, will be completed before Christmas. No interscholastic soccer schedule has been arranged yet, but Kamehameha and St. Louis have decided to play at least two games before Christmas so that the games will not all come in a bunch.

The High School will not play soccer until after the football season, which will not be completed much before Christmas. If no soccer games were played until after Christmas they would all come in a bunch and the Athletic League wants to avoid this rushing and bunched as much as possible.

No extra points are to be given to the winning team or company in soccer. The inter-company games will last for about three weeks. Track begins immediately after soccer.

GET THIS NEW ONE. YOU COLLEGE MEN!

Through an Eastern paper comes the news that Harvard has a wonderful growth of mustaches this year. The crop is far above the average to be qualified as a "bumper." Most of the mustaches are dapper and little affairs. They look cute and more than one proud student has resolved to have lip protection for the rest of the present term at least.

The petty conceits haven't made what might be termed a smashing hit with the Radcliffe girls, but this cold reception has failed to nip the young men. They have had unprecedented success at Wellesley, according to recent reports, and it is a safe bet that as long as Wellesley stands for them they'll stay and grow.

Whether or not this team will prove a black horse is a hard question to answer, but from the looks of the material in the lineup it is evident that it will prove a husky opponent.

The Town Team, as it is called, is made up of former Punahou and High School stars, such men as Paty, C. Hoogs, Rose, Marcellino, and Hart, being in the lineup; men who have figured in local football circles for the past five years. It can truthfully be called an all-star team.

As yet the lineup has not been definitely announced, but it will probably be as follows:

Ends: Cousens, C. Hoogs; tackles: Moore, Paty, (Capt.); guards: Hart, Carter, H. Chillingworth; center: Barnhart, Bertelmann; quarter: Aldrich, Ballentine; fullback: W. Grace; halves: Rose, Marcellino.

BIG FOOTBALL SCORES.

Parke H. Davis, who reveals in football statistics, writes the Herald from Easton, Pa., that the 65 to 0 score of Princeton against Stevens was not a record for the Tigers. In 1884 Princeton scored 140 to 0 against Lafayette, according to Mr. Davis, which he says is the greatest scored by any team. Only last week, however, Hastings High School, of Muskegon, Mich., made 216 points in a game. Mr. Davis figures are interesting. They follow:

140—Lafayette . . . . . October 29, 1884
98—Wesleyan . . . . . Nov. 1, 1890
95—Penn'a . . . . . October 2, 1889

CHINESE-J. A. C. GAME SHOULD BE GOOD FOR THE FANS

The Asahis are traveling now, they ought to be given a chance with Akane's men, and it is to be hoped that the management of the two Oriental teams will talk it over very soon. This game ought to be one of the most lively contests ever taken place in the Islands.

MANY COACHES SPUR YALE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 2.—Spurred on by the vehement coaching of half a dozen old timers, the Yale varsity eleven scored three
